

International Symposium '25 years of Adult Liver Transplantation at Cliniques Saint-Luc', Brussels, November 6 and 7, 2009

J. Lerut

Director UCL Transplant Center.

Introduction

During this meeting nationally and internationally renowned speakers were brought together in order to tackle particular problems in liver transplantation. A part of the Symposium was dedicated to medical and surgical features in liver transplantation. Several of these presentations will be published in this issue of ACTA GASTRO-ENTEROLOGICA BELGICA.

For interest of the reader it is important to know that all presentations in relation to hepatobiliary oncology and liver transplantation have been published in the 'Special Focus : Liver Transplantation for Malignancies' in the July issue of Transplant International (Vol. 23, 7 : 661-727, 2010).

Different articles published in this issue of Acta Gastro-Enterologica Belgica and the July 2010 issue of Transplant International give a good update about still existing problems in the field of liver transplantation.

Correspondence to : J. Lerut, Director UCL Transplant Center, Cliniques Universitaires Saint-Luc, 10 avenue Hippocrate, 1200 Bruxelles, Belgium.
E-mail : Jan.lerut@uclouvain.be.

Submission date : 13/07/2010
Acceptance date : 13/07/2010